Description

Mauser G91 dated 1891 made in the Haenel factory. This rare gun has been Regimentally marked and has all matching numbers. There has been a repair to the stock, probably battle damage and is missing the magazine cover. These guns were only made for a relatively short time by three factories producing around 25000. To survive 138 years and be in good shooting condition (reproof 2019) is quite amazing. Good bore.
