Description

This is a copy of the renowned AK47.

It started life as an Armi Jaeger .22 Rifle and has now been very well deactivated, and as it's classed as a rifle not a machine gun the bolt cycles. The top cover is removable and it partially strips plus the trigger moves. All original AK's are welded shut so this is probably more interesting for a collector.

And a Hell of a lot cheaper than an AK 47.

A fantastic display piece or superb for re-enactment.
